ANZAC DAY DAWN SERVICE - 2018

A serene, motionless morning with cooling river fog, welcomed the growing crowd at Tailem Bend's annual ANZAC Day Dawn Service, held this year, at 5.45 am at the Tailem Bend ANZAC Memorial, April 25, 2018.

Since August 2014 until this year, the community has quietly been commemorating the centenary of the First World War - remembering the national pride, the local sacrifice and the scars left behind over the past 100 years.

With the National Flag at half mast, Major Sumner AM (PICTURED RIGHT) of Adelaide and Camp Coorong, Meningie emerged from the mist, greeting all to Ngarrindjeri country and with smouldering native plants, began to spread wisps of spiritual smoke over the crowd to cleanse their souls, protect them and welcome the ANZAC spirits of the past.

The service and proceedings of the morning continued under the watchful eye of Tailem Bend RSL President, Keith Wood, followed by a short seven minute audio visual presentation - even a passing Freight Train showed it's respect by slowing and rumbling quietly by like the sound of a heart beat.

People sang and reflected, the Last Post and Reveille sounded, wreaths were laid and with that the first of many bells rang out, introducing hand held placards of each of the local diggers who paid the supreme sacrifice during WWI - carried by the children of the Tailem Bend Primary School (PICTURED BELOW) accompanied by candle light, to erected white wooden crosses.

This act was truly appreciated by the past and present diggers attending.

Anzac Day goes beyond the anniversary of the landing of Gallipoli, it's the day when our nation remembers all, past and present, men and women, who have served and died in war.

The spirit of Anzac, with its qualities of courage, mateship and sacrifice, continues to have meaning and relevance to our younger generations and for our own sense of national identity.

The Changing Face of Taillem Bend #75

This month we get an introduction to the many harrowing experiences by migrants far from their home land, while starting a new life in Australia and eventually Taillem Bend,. This time it is the Tournoy family from Holland.

Hi, my name is Mary Tournoy. My husband, John and two children, Monica and Richard and myself, arrived in Sydney on the 3rd of April, 1963. A taxi picked us up from the airport and gave us a tour of Sydney before arriving at the train station. From there we went to Bonegilla. We stayed in Bonegilla for at least a month - our first impression was it was very hot. One day we decided to go for a short walk up to the dam, not realising how far it was. Everything seemed so far away and so open and big. By the time we arrived at the damn, I had blisters on my feet. On the way back, a car pulled over and asked us what we were doing in the middle of nowhere. They seemed surprised that we had to walk that distance, and then kindly offered us a lift back to the camp.

My feet were so sore, I was so happy that we didn't have to walk back. They had been out shooting rabbits, all night and were kind enough to give us a rabbit for our supper. We stayed in army barracks, consisting of two bedrooms and that was all. Showering was a different thing altogether - the showers were lined up with partitions in between, but no doors. I always selected the first shower because when somebody walked in the door, it would actually keep me out of sight.

Even though we were in the middle of nowhere, it was like a month of beautiful holiday weather.

On the 2nd of May at 6am in the morning, we left the train station out of Bonegilla and travelled to Melbourne, arriving at 12pm.

There were also other foreigners waiting for the train as well. Because my husband John Tournoy spoke English, he was able to help them get on the right train.

While walking around in Melbourne, we had Italian people following us everywhere, as they were too afraid to leave our side because they weren't sure how to get back to the station and where to go from there. But they knew we were on our way to Adelaide, so felt safer sticking with us. We had a walk around and something to eat before leaving Melbourne eight hours later to begin the journey to Adelaide.

We also had a little bit of difficulty with some Russians who didn't understand that they had to switch trains to get to their destination, but my husband made sure they went in the right direction.

The Changing Face of Tailem Bend #75

When we got to the border of South Australia, we had to surrender all of our fruit. But the Italian family was not willing to give up theirs - they had so many grapes with them. They tried to eat as much as possible and give the rest away, but it was just too much. Let's face it, no one wants to get the runs on the train. When we arrived in Adelaide, I was amazed to see so many foreign women cleaning the trains.

I was disappointed at first, thinking that if I had stayed in Holland, I would have been able to buy a house already. As I looked around, I felt like I would have to work hard to be able to achieve this goal now - not that my husband would let me work while I still had two children at home. We were sent to a hostel in Glenelg. We were allowed to stay there for up to two years, so that we could save for a house. However, I found the conditions there quite disgusting. Toilets were only cleaned once a day, so by the end of the day you could imagine how dirty they were. The hostel housed over 200 people.

The meals were made at certain times, so that when my husband got home from work, there was no food available because the kitchens were closed. I ended up buying a little stove and making his food through the day so that I could heat it up at night when he got home. This sort of lifestyle was not for us. We survived in this situation for two weeks.

PICTURED ABOVE - Near Unley Oval, we ended up renting half a house, sharing it with an Italian family, who also had two children. I had no furniture and was told if I went to the shop and made a deposit I could get furniture. They told me I couldn't take everything at once, so I thought, "well, I'm not leaving without it!" I couldn't understand what they were saying, I knew I had to put a deposit down and that, I had already done! I was told that if I did not leave, they would call the police. I was not budging, I was determined to get my furniture. Finally a lady came in and explained that I had to put a deposit on each item. When the manager found out how much I had already put down, I had paid for half of everything I wanted!

He shook his head and laughed, "had you told me that you had so much money, I would have let you take it all straight away!" These were some of the hard barriers to cross when you couldn't connect or speak English. We finally settled into our house and I was happy to be in the country. Things were looking up. After living here in Australia for a year we realised how much we did miss our family. But I suppose when you travel to a different country these things happen, we slowly adjusted and after a while felt at home here. We have had many happy and bad times and troubled times through our life, but have, in the long run, always survived. I suppose it doesn't matter what part of the world you come from, everybody has a longing for their Homeland or family - that doesn't change in any culture. I have two sons and a daughter (with their children and grandchildren) living in Australia and two daughters living in Belgium, (with their children and grandchildren of their own), as well as other family members - HOWEVER, Australia is home to me now and I still reside in Tailem Bend.

Mary can often be seen travelling around the town on her Gopher or she will be at home on face book, keeping in touch with family members still in Holland.

Thank you for your contribution to Tailem Topics, Mary.

Next month we go back in time with Howard 'Barney' Hattam with a diary full of memories of Tailem Bend. I also have a story on the life and times of the undisputed Mayor of Cooke Plains, Norm Paterson and his wife Margaret.

See you then, Peter Connolly.

The Making of Meningie

Meningie was made just over 150 years ago in 1866, but the land has always been here, it just didn't have a name, or did it?

A history/art exhibition 'The Making of Meningie - Winmun Meinanggun' has been many months in planning and was officially opened at the Coorong Gallery 95 - 101 Railway Terrace, Tailem Bend, during April.

Neville Bonney, South Australian native plant expert, ethno botanist and published author, opened the exhibition Sunday, April 29, 2018 and visitors are welcome to view the exhibition during business hours, with groups asked to give notification of their visit via 1300 785 277.

The display tells the story of the making of Meningie which began long before 1866, with art works by George French Angas in the mid-1840's and works by local artists depicting the area before and after white settlement. It takes visitors on a journey through the decades showing the buildings, education, religion, agriculture, sport and other aspects of the community and district, developing and evolving in time, through photographs, historic artefacts and works of art by local artists, some of which will be available to purchase.

Exhibition conveynor, Marianne Cunneen, said the exhibition contains more than 120 items specific and unique to Meningie, Narrung, Raukkan, Salt Creek and Ashville. Marianne added that the display contains a fraction of the number of items of historic interest that exist, but hopes that it gives a broad insight into the districts' uniqueness.

The exhibition is housed in Tailem Bend, as the result of an offer made by the Coorong District Council for such an event to be held in the Coorong Gallery. Marianne said she could not refuse such a great opportunity to display Meningie and its history and hopes that people throughout the Coorong District Council area and further afield will take the opportunity to view the display, which is open until July 6, 2018.

Sponsors of the exhibition include Coorong District Council, The Lakelander, Chowilla Wines and Coorong Wild Seafood.

Its 2019...America has been attacked. Some say it was Russia. Others say China. Either way it's probably the start of WW3. Just last week some big investors sent door knockers around Taillem Bend and Wellington offering over inflated prices to purchase houses, all due to the success of The Bend Motorsport Park.

Now before you reach for your "what the beep..." (curse words), that's just the novelist in me gaining your attention. Though you all know either one of those scenarios could happen next year. I know which one I'm hoping for - likely it's the same as you.

With winter around the corner, it's time to focus on the outside. Get the painting done, repair the leaks and replace rotted timber now, otherwise you run the risk of more damage. With water damage being very common and often worse, rot can sometimes be hiding below the surface. This is due to the nature of timber naturally absorbing moisture, as if it was still a living tree.

You want your property to have street appeal now, especially to attract the coming tourists and investors to our town.

Happy Days Are Here Again! Be Property Proud! Maybe you decide to cash in while the going is good. Spend a penny to make a pound!

Ok, stay safe this month. Stay away from rickety ladders.

BELOW RIGHT: The Pitt family have done it again...second year in a row!! After a difficult growing season this year, they still managed this 'mini' giant pumpkin, weighing in at 25.1kg (compared to 64.5kg last year!) The lovely Pitt family were hugely generous in donating their prize money back to the giant pumpkin growing competition, in aid of 'Suicide Prevention.' Thank you very much! Let's hope for a more successful growing season next time around!! Seeds for Giant Pumpkins, are available from Council. Image Emily Morgan.

Dogs and the Law

(No PA I'm not going to become a police dog).

Under the Dog and Cat Management Act dogs must be registered from 3 months old (owners must be over 16). Rego discs must be worn in public (no PA, on the dog, not the owner!) Microchips are also another excellent way to ID us. Remember when you move house, to change our address with the local council and our vet.

Leads can't be longer than two metres, when we are walked in public. We can't go to schools (apart from our obedience school), kindergartens or child care centres without the okay from the principals. We must be under control even when we visit 'off the lead' dog parks.

We have to be on our best behaviour and come to you when you call for us.

You legally have to clean up after us too, council supply free 'poo bags' at several areas around our community.

When taking us for a drive (yippee, but mum, oops PA, won't let me drive) we must be restrained by a leash on the back of an open vehicle, in a cage or similar enclosure. The same applies in a car, perhaps with a safely belt harness. You humans are being naughty if you drive with us on your lap!

Remember to let Michael know if you want me to cover an interesting topic for you on our Community Pet Page - mvivian@coorong.sa.gov.au

Country Health SA Awards

Dear Tailem Bend Friends of the Hospital

Congratulations on your nomination for the inaugural Country Health SA Awards.

We received more than 130 nominations across the nine categories, from all regions, directorates and disciplines.

The calibre of the nominations was outstanding, and this was noted by our judging panels who had a very difficult job, diligently reading through and scoring each nomination.

The success of our finalists and winners is buoyed by the quality of nominations, like yours, that they were up against. Thank you for raising the bar so high.

I encourage you to nominate again next time and to consider nominating for other awards such as the SA Health Awards, Nursing and Midwifery Excellence Awards and Mental Health Awards.

Thank you for all the great work you are doing to ensure we deliver high quality health care to country South Australians.

I am immensely proud of you and the work you do.

Regards,

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

I was born in Tailem Bend, reside in Northern Heights, Murray Bridge, but am still a ratepayer in Tailem Bend. As I commute to Tailem Bend often, I am amazed at the effort shown by the retail sector, showing their decorative animal features in the town and seeing locals and tourists, stopping in the main street to take snapshots.

My first stop is the Tailem Bend Bakery – best pie and pasty you will find anywhere AND you'll be greeted by a friendly life sized gorilla!

Then there's Hughes' Newsagency, where, upon entering, a life sized giraffe greets you, along with a large gorilla and along the street a bit further, the Coorong District Council have a pelican standing at their entrance – the Council's emblem.

Outside the local Butcher is a replica cow standing on its hind legs, she wears an assortment of costumes, from a Green St Patrick's Day outfit, to French maid attire. She is often accompanied by a very colourful pig, who's partner (also wearing eye-catching attire) is often observed 'mowing' the lawn opposite the butcher, while nearby, visitors rest on the park bench.

I feel these displays are very witty and a great tourist attraction – including the life-sized rhinoceros which greets people at the entrance to the ferry crossing. This beast was donated to the community by Cosi from the documentary series 'South Aussie with Cosi'.

Congratulations to the people responsible for making Tailem Topics so successful, also The Bend Motorsport Park for opting to build world standard motor sport in this area.

Tailem Bend can only flourish from now on, I'm sure.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

HAVE YOUR SAY the Budget Draft is out and surprise! surprise! Rates are going up.

- Rates are going up again, the differential is going up 3% + 1% growth
- the fixed charge is going up $10 from $350.00 to $360.00.
- Introduction of a fairer, transparent user pays system for ratepayers benefitting from the water scheme at Wellington East and Peake. There will be a connection fee of $235 ($315 in 2017-18) for every property connected to the scheme and 0.60c/kl for those consuming water from the scheme
- Hopefully the Council will adopt a fairer, transparent user pays system for the CWMS as well and not charge the same for Vacant Land, with nothing, as the Residential Blocks with Septics – currently $605.00
- Kerbside Waste Management will remain the same $325.00

The community is invited to make submissions in writing, on this plan during the consultation period, which closes on 25 May 2018.

There are 4 x “drop in” sessions throughout the District, which will all be held through the day (too bad if you work or run a Business):

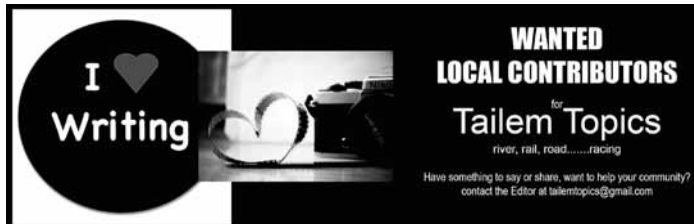

- Coorong Civic Centre, Taillem Bend: Tuesday 22 May 2018, 10.00am – 11.30am.
- Peake Sporting Club: Tuesday 22 May 2018, 1.00pm – 2.30pm.
- Tintinara Customer Service Centre: Wednesday 23 May 2018, 11.00am – 12.30pm.
- Meningie Information Hub: Wednesday 23 May 2018, 2.00pm – 3.30pm.

You will be able to have your say at these meetings but beware: they do not take minutes or record your objections, you MUST address any concerns/complaints in writing and have them into the Council by the 25th May.

Community members also have the opportunity to address Council at a special meeting to be held at 7pm on Tuesday, 5 June 2018 at the Coorong Civic Centre, Taillem Bend. I truly cannot see the point of attending this meeting as the submissions must be in by the 25th May and the Budget will be set by then.

Full copies of the Budget and Long Term Financial Plan are available from the Council Office.

No need to have tickets to The Bend Motorsport Park to meet and rub shoulders with world class motorcycle racers - Evan and Cath Byles of Tailem Bend, entertained Asian Road Racing Champions, Australian Super Bike and BC Performance Team Kawasaki riders at their free to the public, Meet & Greet BBQ at SA Motorcycles, Tailem Bend, on Friday April 20, 2018.

*We love our sport, we just wanted to make it possible for any bike enthusiast, young or old, to meet some of the legends of motorcycle racing,” Cath said. “As a young rider, having a signed poster of your favourite racer on your wall really keeps you on the boil.”

Thought for the Month

My God is a God who loves His children and wants the best for us.

It seems that it doesn't matter what stage you are in life, it just gets busy. It sometimes can seem that there is a sense in the world today, that we have to be doing something, or we are not living full and productive lives.

Jesus was also confronted, by the business of life and the demands of those around Him.

He spent time in prayer, drew away from the crowds, so he could get the mind of His Father.

We need to take encouragement from this. The time to contemplate and make right decisions, to reflect and to see situations as they are, to get wisdom and the right approach, to get answers to our problems, these can come to us in our moments spent in HIS PRESENCE. Prayer time is never wasted time.

Prayer is simply talking to God. Recently we have been reminded again, have you had a chat to Jesus about that lately? Remember, He is always with us. No problem too big or too small, He is waiting to hear from us, so have a Chat, to Jesus soon.

The Secrets We Keep – Shirley Patton

For readers of Judy Nunn's Spirits of the Ghan... When a newcomer blows into the mining town of Kalgoorlie she unwittingly uncovers a web of lies and a heartbreaking tie with her tumultuous past in this compelling family saga where the personal and political collide.

A mother's secret, a father's betrayal, a town on the edge...

When social worker Aimee arrives in the mining town of Kalgoorlie, she is ready for a fresh start. Her colleagues Lori and Paddy seem friendly, and she is also drawn to one of her cases: the Steele family, whose future looks particularly bleak. But Aimee has a dark secret and as the past reaches out towards her once more, she realises that somehow her secret is connected to this unfamiliar but harshly beautiful town and its inhabitants.

As she strengthens her ties with the local community – especially with the vibrant Lori, stoical Kerry and wise Agnes – she finds herself questioning earlier decisions. Can she reveal her secret, even if it is not hers alone to share?

A compelling novel of the transcendental love of children and the truth's unwillingness to stay hidden.

From the Stars Above – Peter Watt

A century-old curse comes full circle...

For a hundred years they have never forgiven, never forgotten. Now, the war between the Duffy and Macintosh dynasties will be brought to its stunning conclusion.

Private Patrick Duffy was forced to flee Malaya as a child, and left orphaned when his mother died in Changi prison.

Now, returning to fight a fearless enemy, he must confront the ghosts of his past if he is to find any hope for the future.

Michael Macintosh is forging his own path to escape his mother's obsessive control. Sailor, soldier and mercenary, he will soon face war again, in the brutal jungles of Vietnam.

Sarah Macintosh ruthlessly crushes anyone who gets in her way, and has vowed to destroy her sister-in-law, Jessica Duffy-Macintosh. Fixated on her own legacy, she has ignored her family's inheritance - a century-old curse, to be paid in blood...

READER CONTRIBUTION

Today, I went to my local Kaleidoscope club in Tailem Bend, looking forward to unusual and exciting things we would be doing. After a relaxed morning tea served by Margaret and Brian, we were shown how to make paper poppies for Anzac Day by Linda and Tania.

Well, I have to admit, making paper poppies stressed me out too much, so I was given the easy task of sticking them together to complete beautiful wreaths. To all other poppy makers for your amazing achievement, congratulations and well done. Having enjoyed our usual tasty lunch, prepared for us by Friends of the Hospital ladies, we then had my favourite game of Bingo, with choccy treats for the winners.

If you're looking for somewhere different to go and unusual things to learn, Kaleidoscope will always make you welcome. Why not come along and join in the fun. Just ring 8532 2255 and ask for Linda.
