The Changing Face of Taillem Bend #64

This month we are looking at something that relates to our past but is quite different from anything else. It's all about emptying our septic tanks (or buckets) and how it was done many years ago - by horse and wagon. Someone with a sense of humour named them "Honey Wagon" and "Honey Buckets" which no doubt sounds a lot better than more accurate titles.

Marcus Reseigh grew up in Taillem Bend and although he now resides in Eudunda, like a lot of expatriates, I believe he still calls Taillem home - he is also a member of our Historian Group. So much so, that he has compiled a piece of history on a Night Watchman, named Mr. Tucker. It's not a bad story, but took a bit of wading through, especially with a peg on my nose. Here's how it goes.

"Mr Tucker ----- Mr Tucker ----- wait for me!"

The words battled against forced breathing as the small legs of the young boy propelled him forwards.

Mr. Tucker brought the draught horse to a cautious halt; the large dray finally stopped its rocking motion. The boy clambered up over the truck chassis which made up the back end of the large wooden dray, hauling himself onto the battered planking, he sat down with his short brown legs dangling behind.

The empty 44 gallon drums rumbled together as the dray gained momentum, the long handled sewage pump rocked on its base, as the dray trundled along on the metal driveway fronting the railway cottages. The old brown leather face looked over the haunches of the grey draught horse, white stubble roughened the weather beaten features even more. A battered Akubra pulled low on the forehead maintained Mr. Tucker's privacy, with King Gee overalls ending in large black water-boots, completed the clothing ensemble.

Mr Tucker was old and wise and also a nice man, he was also a very quiet man who didn't say much, come to that, I don't recall him ever saying anything! He smelt like the septic tanks he pumped out, but as kids we didn't notice the smell, perhaps that is why we always sat at the back of the dray or was it just Mr Tucker being nice again?..Whatever, it didn't worry us.

The drums continued to rattle, Mr Tucker was obviously just starting his rounds for the day, with the long fine summer evenings he didn't need to start his rounds too early. When he returned later in the evening, the drums would still be full of night soil. The horse would be straining at the traces to maintain the momentum of the dray.

"Thanks Mr Tucker" the small boy yelled, as he slipped off the back of the tray onto the metal roadway near his home. He disappeared across the roadway, through his front gate and down the drive towards the back of the house.

The reins flicked across the broad back of the draught horse after it picked up the pace after depositing its small passenger. Mr Tucker had three houses to do this particular evening, he would empty the 44's next morning.

Sometimes, when Mr Tucker wasn't in a particular hurry, small children would perch on the front lip of the large dray. At times, five or six eager young faces followed the gaze of the driver, boys and girls alike, clutching tightly to school bags and cases, would gyrate to the undulations of the local roadway. They always thought they would fall off and get trampled by the gigantic hooves or squashed flat by the large rubber tyres...they never did and never would. To be continued....

Quite a while back now, Malcolm Piggott handed me a number of pages relating to the history of Taillem Bend, compiled by him in 2012.

It is rather lengthy but very informative, so I will present it sections at a time, to keep it motivating.

Malcolm made an observation with a headline reading: "Railways made this Town" - with that in mind, I will start with a snippet about the Railways.

The Changing Face of Tailem Bend #64

*In the days of steam locomotives the Railways had a large workshop and shunting yards employing over 500 people. Originally the railways workshop was at Murray Bridge near the present grain silo, the old turntable is still there. Mr Webb, who, in 1924 was invited from America to manage the SA rail system, shifted the workshops to Tailem Bend. A work train transported workers from Murray Bridge to Tailem Bend until adequate accommodation was constructed at Tailem Bend. The first railway houses were built of concrete and cinders.

Secondary school students also used this train for attending higher education in Murray Bridge. Later, in 1952 prefabricated houses were imported from Sweden to cater for the influx of migrants. Railway people have their own language - many people thought a train was made up of an engine and various trucks...not so - an engine is a locomotive and trucks are rolling stock.

The engine has a fireman, whose job is to shovel coal into the fire to make black smoke for photographers, plenty of black smoke makes good photos. In the days of steam, the engine man had a special feeling of pride and joy for his locomotive, for instance they used to communicate with each other when struggling with a full load up through the hills. The driver would urge the loco saying "Come on old girl, you can make it" the Loco replied " I think I can, I think I can"...more urging, "come on you are nearly there"... " I think I can". As she gets past Mt Lofty and starts to pick up speed, she lets off a bit of steam and says " I knew I could, I knew I could, I knew I could".

Next month, we look at the midwife, Mrs Murphy and her family and also, a very interesting, but mysterious 1915 war medal has turned up with a connection to Tailem Bend.

Remember my best stories come from you. See you then, Peter Connolly

A Poem by Marcus Reseigh - formerly of Tailem Bend.

MR TUCKER

Drab grey overalls, leaning
Rolling his own, relaxing
While we worked the lever furiously
Pumping the sewage
From the depths of the pit
To the heights of the drums
Sitting importantly upon the dray
The draught horse standing nonchalantly, nearby.

Mr Tucker rarely spoke
Smiled a lot
Gave you a ride down the street
Perched aloft with schoolbag on your back
You rode in procession down Railway Terrace
Waving to your mates, walking.

No-one knew where the waste went
When Mr Tucker departed your gate
To a secret smelly location
Was probably the contents fate.

Tailem Bend Football Club

On behalf of the TBFC committee I welcome all members, supporters, sponsors, current and new players to the 2017 season!

With the new season and from a footy perspective, there is always a great sense of expectation and anticipation. The Club believes we have recruited particularly well and we will be looking forward to seeing Scott Welsh, Luke Williams, Travis Burns, the Gollan brothers - Alfie & Tyreen, Neil Johnson and Harrison Westhoff in Eagle colours for the first time.

On field they are leading from the front and their willingness to pass on their vast footy knowledge and experience to the "locals" should not be underestimated. It is so pleasing to see our junior players flourish under their guidance. There is a sense of freshness and new opportunity.

Common to any great team is depth and this year the numbers have been quite good especially within the junior ranks.

We've said all through pre-season, that we've wanted to improve, and that's what we're trying to do.

Our expectations are all about the improvement and that's still to come. We've got a group of players who want to learn, are willing to listen, and have improved in certain areas.

Gary Peach will again coach the League side, while Clinton Rigney will be in charge of the Reserves. Noel Hartman and Joel Maidment will coach the U17 and U15 respectively, whilst Josh Gerlach will coach the U13.

April 29 will see Co-Captain Jarryd Linde play his 150th senior game for the Tailem Bend Football Club.

Jarryd, has worked his way through the juniors to become a tenacious player for the senior side. Leading by example, his ability to get to every contest and to help determine its outcome in some shape or form has made him an inspirational player!

Jarryd, has spent most of his career as a back man taking on opponents much bigger, but he has a reputation for being super reliable and being at his best when the "chips are down".

Congratulations from all at the TBFC champ, and Play Well!

A number of events will be held in 2017 and the dates for those are listed below:

- May 13 - PAST PLAYERS DAY - TBFC V Jervois
- May 20 - LADIES DAY - TBFC V Imperials
- June 3 – REUNIONS 1947, '62, '72, '92 & '97 - TBFC V Mypolonga
- June 4 – Reunion Luncheon for the above teams
- August 5 – Indigenous Day

Specially designed Guernseys' will be worn by the players for the Reunion & Indigenous games and will be auctioned post-game.

We would like all ex-players, supporters, associates, sponsors and anyone involved with the Club over the years to join us in 2017.

Go You Eagles!

Tuesday April 11, was our yearly 'Bowls Social Night' at the Tailem Bend Bowling Club. 59 Lions Members and guests from Tailem Bend and surrounding districts attended and enjoyed a fun filled night, which included a two course dinner and a game of bowls, on the green afterwards. 40 people chose to play a game of Bowls, from that 40, 10 people of higher intelligence (??) were selected as Skippers and then names of players were drawn from a hat to make up each team of four.

The skippers where: May Virgin, Ruth Cross, Bernie Cross, Malcolm Piggott, Bill Jaensch, Kevin Griffiths, Don Green, Robert Hughes, Maxine Fisher & John Wooldridge. Coriander / Cilantro

Carmen Bubner ND

Most people are familiar with the culinary herb Coriander (Coriandrum sativum). The name coriander actually refers to the seed of the plant and Cilantro is the pungent finely divided leaf.

Coriander is reputedly one of the oldest known medicinal spices, historically coriander seeds were found in Tutankhamun's tomb and it was known as one of the medieval herbs to the Greeks and Romans.

Many people know Coriander as a common culinary herb and do not realise the value it has in herbal medicine. On a nutritional level coriander seed contains omega 6, B vitamins (B1, B2, B3), calcium, copper, iron, magnesium, potassium, selenium and zinc. Cilantro (leaf) contains more B vitamins, as well as vitamin A, C, E and K, with the mineral content also being similar.

Medicinally the ripe seeds and leaves of the plant can be used for many digestive issues such as bloating, belching and loose stools with undigested food. The herb also has antibacterial, antifungal, antimicrobial and antioxidant qualities. For an infusion, pour a cup of boiling water onto 1 tspn of bruised seeds, cover and infuse for 5 minutes. Strain and drink prior to meals.

Cilantro (leaf) can be consumed in the form of a pesto and is delicious when combined with flat leaf parsley. It's a healthy way to eat your greens. The essential oil can be added to a carrier oil or cream and applied externally for rheumatic pain.

Coriander can cause allergic reaction in sensitive individuals; people on insulin medication may need to monitor their blood glucose as it may lower their blood glucose levels.

Your doctor wants you to read this...

Your doctor feels like a broken record.

That's right—he's sick and tired of telling you how important exercise is to your health because YOU DON'T LISTEN.

He's sick of explaining how so many of your health problems will improve or even disappear as the result of a consistent exercise program.

He's tired of tallying your controllable risk factors that include physical inactivity and obesity.

So why does he continue to give you the same lecture?

Because he's seen exercise changes lives.

He's even seen exercise save lives.

1. Feel Great: The first thing that patients tell their doctor after starting an exercise program is how much better they feel. People don't realize how bad they feel. They get used to feeling bad. Then when they start exercising they feel so much better.

Your energy levels boost and you feel great.

2. Pain Be Gone: Next, patients notice a reduction in aches and pains. Chronic muscle and joint pain that they've lived with for years begins to fade. For some, joint replacement surgery is postponed. For others, arthritis pain is reduced.

Your muscles and joints feel better than ever.

3. Goodbye Coronary Heart Disease: While patients can't feel this healing benefit of exercise, it is the one that saves lives. Exercise removes two of the major risk factors that lead to heart disease: 1) physical inactivity and 2) obesity. Exercise also increases your good cholesterol (HDL) and lowers your blood pressure.

Your risk of heart attack or stroke is reduced.

4. Goodbye Type 2 Diabetes: Patients with type 2 diabetes gain substantial benefits from exercise. Exercise improves the body's use of insulin, and the related weight loss improves insulin sensitivity. Of course patients with type 2 diabetes need to get guidelines from their doctor before starting an exercise program.

Your blood sugar levels are better controlled.

5. Goodbye Sleep Apnea: Patients with sleep apnea are often caught in a destructive cycle. Their weight promotes occurrences of apnea, then inadequate sleep promotes weight gain.

This Month in the Garden

During these cooler days of Autumn and with Winter approaching, it's time to plant broad beans, English spinach, green beans and peas, as well as broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, celery, silver beet and lettuce. Herbs to go in, include coriander, garlic bulbs, marjoram, oregano, parsley, thyme and winter tarragon. Chives and mustard can also be included.

Keep your eyes open for signs of snail and slug damage and scatter around some Slug and Snail Pellets - you can purchase water proof types these days, which are very useful, particularly in this lovely wet weather we've had recently.

Any day is a good day to add compost and mulch to your garden beds - vegetables and flowers alike, will show their appreciation in months to come - before you know it, Spring will be here. Once you have the weeding under control, keep it under control, pulling any weeds you see whilst taking your regular strolls around the garden - you'll be glad you did, come Spring!

These cooler days are also an ideal time to consider what, if any, improvements could be done to your outdoor entertaining areas. Structures such as pergolas, arbors and shade houses are worthy additions to any back yard - not only to enjoy during Summer when entertaining outdoors is more prolific, but these areas can also be the best place to be on a chilly day or night, especially if you have a chiminea or fire pit to toast yourself by. A shade cloth covered pergola is ideal to sit under, even in Winter with droplets of rain dripping through onto the shade-loving plants below - there's something quite mesmerizing about sitting in a garden in the cool and wet months - so, go on, rug up and get out into your garden with a hot mug of soup and see it in a different light!

WHAT IS A PERGOLA? Sourced from Wikipedia

*A pergola is a garden feature forming a shaded walkway, passageway, or sitting area of vertical posts or pillars that usually support cross-beams and a sturdy open lattice, often upon which woody vines are trained. The origin of the word is the Late Latin pergola, referring to a projecting eave.*

The Club would like to thank Tailem Topics for publishing its monthly news report and congratulate them for providing the community with regular information on the important functions which all our local clubs perform.

APRIL REPORT 2017

On 24th April President Neville Medlow welcomed 25 members to an informal meeting and social morning held in the beautiful garden of member Anny Mussger. Members were provided with copies of the existing Club Constitution and By-laws to read and study. The President pointed out several important amendments needed to be made, which would be tabled and voted upon by members at the next meeting on 15th May.

Then followed a delicious cold meat and salad luncheon, with liquid refreshments, accompanied by jovial non-stop conversations, mainly centering on medical ailments and doctors' appointments and medications!

Probus Tailem Bend is a club which promotes friendship and comradeship within the community and welcomes both ladies and gentlemen as members.

Poetry penned from Lost Letters

Discovering long lost letters from his Great Uncle Alf Hogarth, recently surviving evacuation from the Gallipoli Peninsular, to his Great Uncle Hadden Hogarth in the trenches of the Somme, local Poet, Peter Squires of Old Tailern Town, pens "The Game of Great Deception".

"The Game of Great Deception"

There was excitement in the trenches on this grey Dardanelle day,
Our Anzac Brigadier had just told us
We are making plans to sneak away.

So our game of great deception stated to unfold
To give us one of the greatest stories this war has ever told.

We started making dummies realistic as could be,
Then worked out where to place them
Somewhere where the Turks could easily see.

Then we tied dripping jam tins to the triggers of our guns

So they would fire off without us once our journey had begun
Our boots were wrapped in our blankets dear,
So a hundred men could steal away without a sound to hear
Three days of rations strapped to us, and bombs hung front and back
Our ragged party lined up to creep off down the track
We knew the long winding trenches, living in them for the past year
The Brigadier's last words kept ringing in our ears
The boats push off and will not put back
So everyman for himself in the event of an attack
We crept off together on that night at 11.45.

Excitement reigned in our hearts, we were glad to be alive
Our silent line past under mule Gully Bridge
Creeping quietly till we came up on the next ridge
Then once upon the sap
We had no time for naps
Pass old number two, outpost station
Crept this ragged Anzac Nation
We rolled out coils of barbed wire to keep those Turks at bay
Then five minutes rest at division headquarters helped us on our way
Our bombs were getting heavy, our limbs were getting tired,
Past mule Camp Outpost, we kept up our endless stride,
Once upon the long beach sap, then up to Walkers Ridge
Two long lines of men came to together to enter Freedom's
Bridge
Then off to the boats and safety on the way to the land we love,
With spirits of past comrades, hovering with us up above,
But the Turkish General could see them going from his shore,
And for the sake of Australia and Turkish mothers
He would have them grieve no more.

And the game of great deception succeeded with its' play
But the honour of our fellow man finally had its' way.
So now stand and look around you
And count the things that you hold dear
Because if it wasn't for those old soldiers
we may not be here.

ANZAC DAY 2017

What an inspiring turnout to the ANZAC Day Dawn service! Thank you to all who attended, helped, sponsored and supported us on the day. We fed over 100 early risers at our annual Gun Fire Breakfast, with the adults enjoying a splash of rum in their coffee, kindly donated by Tony Pasin MP, and much appreciated on the cool morning.

PRICE RISE

Following lengthy committee deliberation over our goals and financials, we have decided to raise the prices of both meals and drinks starting 1st May 2017.

With so many clubs around us struggling to keep their doors open and having to pay staff to run their kitchens and bars, we do not want to follow suit. We are extremely lucky to have a small, but very dedicated group of volunteers who want to grow and improve the RSL - we would like to extend the hall and entice more of you to join us for our weekly dinners, unfortunately, we can't do that without raising extra funds.

From the 1st May Bar Prices will all go up $1 and Meals will be raised to $15, which still gets you two generous, home cooked and delicious courses plus tea & coffee.

Thank you for your understanding and we hope to see you at the RSL to try this month's menu!

OUR PHONE

Please bear with us while we sort out our ongoing phone issue and contact our secretary directly on 0418579912. We Thank you for your understanding.

Tailem Bend Historians

Meeting regularly over the past six months, at the Tailem Bend Library, the Tailem Bend Historians are about to launch their grand plans to preserve Tailem Bend's rich local and railway imagery, documentation and associated artefacts.

Starting from humble beginnings as a Tailem Bend Historic Rail Trail tasking group, Anna Del Rio of the Coorong District Council, Geraldine Dickson, Don Green, Peter and Bob Connolly all of Tailem Bend have witnessed the Tailem Bend Historians (TBH) grow to ten passionate volunteers.

Working closely with the Tailem Info Station, the Coorong District Council and other Tailem Bend interest groups, the TBH have finally been able to bring the town's historic imagery together into one enormous data file.

With multiple back ups, housed in a number of suitable safe locations, the town's irreplaceable images have been collected and stored, by TBH, Angie Tomkinson of Wellington and Glenn Power of Tailem Bend, in an easily accessible digital format - with images grouped and named to maximise online searching results on the proposed revised Tailem Bend Library website.

"We started with over 15,500 images, but after removing duplications from years of copying and sharing from various sources we now have a strong bank of about 5,500 historic digital images," Glenn said. "I love doing this work, I often have a chuckle as I come across yet another great shot - the collection is remarkable, I can't wait to see them all on the Library website for all to see and share."

Glenn and Angie hope to see the collection continually grow with the occasional drop in at the Library and a proposed annual TBH Image Road Show, possibly held each year at the town's renowned Tailem Bend Primary School Fair.

With TBH Digital Memoirs being recorded, post cards and prints in the pipeline, a few Tailem Bend Historians joined forces with the team at the Tailem Bend Info Station to clear out two underutilised areas ready for even more exciting plans.

The group is also considering a Tailem Bend Family Heritage Gallery, Guided Tour Bus and Walking Tours, to name just a few ideas - and if you've been about the traps in Tailem Bend for some time, be ready you may be receiving a personal invitation to participate in your very own TBH Digital Memoir.

If you would like to become a 'Friend of Tailem Bend Historians' phone Angie Tomkinson on 0437 329 454 or drop into the Library for a chat.

Overdue Account Reminder

Have you paid for your Tailem Topics Advertising?

There are a few accounts still outstanding and payments have not been received for advertising in Tailem Topics. As such, we would appreciate that payments are made as soon as possible.

Tailem Topics is produced, printed and distributed to over 1700 homes and businesses in the Tailem Bend and surrounding areas by local volunteers. The ongoing production relies solely on contributions of the community and its advertisers.

Advertising covers the cost of production and excess funds are put back into the local community for projects including the Tailem Bend Christmas Parade and other projects the Association undertakes throughout the year.

We ask that you consider the impact that overdue accounts have on both the production of Tailem Topics and fundraising for the community.

Tailem Bend Rowing Club - Wins Arnold Cup

A composite crew consisting of Graham Hunt of Monteith and Mark Johnson, both representing Riverside Rowing Club, Rob Ellis from Mildura Rowing Club and Harry Harrison and Nanette Farrell representing Tailem Bend Rowing Club raced for the 106 year old 'Arnold cup' at the annual Mannum rowing regatta on the 8th of April.

Captain Johan Arnold presented the silver cup to Mannum Rowing Club for the clubs first regatta in 1911. The cup is the oldest perpetually raced for trophy on the South Australian Rowing Calendar.

The other 8 crews entered came from Port Adelaide, Adelaide, Adelaide University, Scotch College Old Scholars, Adelaide High and Unley High rowing clubs, racing over the 1000 meter course.

Mannum is known for its rough water and windy conditions. On the day there was a gusting strong side head wind and to everyone's surprise, the water was dead flat. The wind caused a bit of drama at the start but the crews all got away cleanly. Not for long though. Tailem flew out of the blocks for an exceptionally fast start taking a lead over the other crews. Adelaide RC, drifted off line to nearly cause a clash of their bow mans oar with Tailem Bends strokes oar. Adelaide were gentleman enough to stop rowing to prevent a collision putting them out of contention for a win and to save themselves from being disqualified. They apologised to us after the event, a much appreciated sporting gesture.

Uni snuck their bow ball ahead for a slight lead. In the excitement our coxswain steered us off course and had our boat lined up for a head on collision with the cement tower that sits in the middle of the course. The umpire following the race warned us in time for Nanette to savagely alter course to just slip past the tower without incident.

The old second hand Ballarat High boat that the crew races in hasn't lost a race since it was acquired and the crew weren't going to let it happen today. Johnno made the call and the crew responded with a lift in pressure. As the race neared the Mary Anne reserve wharf, the noise of the crowd increased, but the girls from Unley High, the crews unofficial fan club were heard above the din and the rating was lifted again. The boat responded and we sprinted past Adelaide Uni to win by a canvas or 0.85 of a second.

Nanette was the first female to win this prestigious and highly contested cup in 1987 and this win makes her officially the only female to have won the cup twice. Rob is the second generation to have won the Arnold cup, as his father won this event some 50 years ago. Tailem Bend has previously won the Arnold cup in both 1935 and 1989.

It is definitely a long time between drinks from the silver cup for the club.

Wellbeing for all in the Community

CANNABIS - 3 different issues - 3 different debates

There are currently three discussions happening about the same plant and its various uses. Yes, there are three different sets of questions – but all too often they get combined and confused.

E.g. if we develop marijuana cultivation and processing for medicinal purposes, recreational use will be legal.

No, these are two distinct legal scenarios.

There are many varieties of cannabis – to simplify, I will make a distinction between marijuana (high THC) and hemp (Low THC). THC gives a high. Low THC – no high.

But it's not that simple.

Prior to prohibition, making cannabis a proscribed drug along with opiates, cannabis was widely used in tinctures and medicines.

In the early 1900s, the term “marihuana” arrived in America along with Mexican immigrants. Same plant – but it became something to demonise along with its foreign users and their alien culture.

Basically, the hue and cry over cannabis / marijuana was racist.

It also served the purposes of industrialists who benefitted from alternatives to hemp e.g. timber logging for paper and cotton milling.

Cannabis was criminalised in Australia after the 1925 Geneva Convention, organised by the League of Nations. Convened to consider the use of opium and coca; cannabis and its derivatives were later added to the agenda.

To legalise? The 1920s American Prohibition of alcohol proved one thing – the banning of an intoxicating substance doesn't stop people using it! They just get it on the black market.

Gangsters and gangs are not romantic.

Who benefits?
What are the risks?

The social and economic cost of law enforcement versus education and the rehabilitation of people with problems?

You decide, chewing the fat with your mates over a tinnie or two, and a sneaky cigarette.

Currently, there are differing State laws regarding cannabis in Australia. For South Australian law regarding cultivation and possession see The Law Handbook, which clearly describes the application of law. <http://www.lawhandbook.sa.gov.au/ch12s08s02.php>

Industrial Hemp – low THC, cultivated for fibres, various uses, easy to grow (more than one crop a year), disease and pest resistant (low chemical use), viable alternative crop for farmers, resource for new manufacturing.

So... why is it illegal? Basically, because all cannabis gets bundled together in law and popular perceptions. Same plant and probably not a lot of variations 100 years ago when first criminalised. Now, the different varieties can be easily selected based on intended use. SA legislation has recently changed – 25 February 2017. “Wade Dabinett, of Grain Producers South Australia, volunteered his Mallee property for commercial trials in anticipation ...” Source ABC News. <http://www.abc.net.au/news/2017-02-26/hemp-cultivation-for-industrial-use-in-sa/8304550>

Medicinal Marijuana

Despite extensive anecdotal evidence and positive outcomes from other countries – Australian Federal laws have only just been amended to allow cultivation of marijuana for medicinal or research purposes, by licenced ‘fit and proper people’. Source: ABC News <http://www.abc.net.au/news/2016-10-28/fit-and-proper-people-can-apply-to-grow-cannabis-this-weekend/7970282>

The main players are big pharmaceutical companies. The industry will be tightly regulated. But for many with chronic pain, a terminal illness, or suffering seizures etc. this is a welcome, albeit slow, change.

Breaking News: South Australia has just made it easier to prescribe medicinal cannabis. Source: The Advertiser <http://www.adelaidenow.com.au/news/south-australia/prescriptions-for-medicinal-cannabis-to-be-available-under-new-south-australian-rules-from-monday>

Thursday's Canine Column

Well hello you lucky chocolate easter egg eating people, It is Thursday and Ally (and our PA) here again. We know you were all wise enough not to give us human chocolate over the Easter period. Unfortunately chocolate is poison to us and we have also heard that its not the best for some of your waist lines either!

This months topic is seniors (yes Ally that is me now, and no I will not be getting a golpher anytime soon). Like Humans we live our lives in stages. That energetic puppy you brought home all those years ago has turned into a sweet senior who is more (much more) content to sit down and relax by your side.

So here is the question.....how old does a dog need to be before they are considered to be a senior? The rule of paw (oops rule of thumb) is hard to define as all dog breeds are different. Larger dog breeds seem to age faster then smaller dog breeds. For example an Alaskan Malamute is considered a senior at around the age of 7 years, where as a chihuahua (thank you PA for the spelling of that) is considered a senior at around 11-13 years.

We are sure you are aware that caring for a puppy is different to an older dog. Senior dogs should all be house trained (otherwise you are a very slow learner). Lets start with a matter close to our hearts. No, no, no, that should read close to our stomach! As we get older we move slower in every way (PA included here). Like our two legged mates our diet should be adjusted to counteract this situation as excess weight increases the strain on our joints and heart. We should increase our fibre intake for our gut health and protein (such as chicken and fish) to maintain muscle. Easy to chew biscuits can assist with dental disease, which affects more then 80% of us and can lead to bacterial infections such as plaque turning into tartar. If caught early tartar can be removed, however if left it can lead to infection of the liver, kidney, heart and damage to the jawbone.

Remember our mouth is the most likely body part to carry germs and the entry point for infection into our bodies. It is important to keep an eye (or nose) on any unusual changes that may occur such as any foul breath, bloody gums, difficulty chewing, loss of appetite or pawing to our mouths.

Keeping an eye on our diets will also help with arthritis which we will display the same symptoms as you mum and dad. Symptoms such as stiffness in joints, reduced movement, yelping in pain, licking sore joints (thankfully you massage your joints with your hands).

Vets can subscribe a number of treatments to improve our quality of life. In fact my doctor (oops, vet) has recommended a fish oil (human stuff) available at our PA's chemist. We are now just waiting patiently for the hydro therapy spa and private massage therapist (I believe that would be our PA Ally).

Like you, we also undergo skin and coat changes (no Ally not like a blue coat today and a yellow coat tomorrow). Although our coats change, it's not to that extreme. The general changes that occur are our coats get thinner, they tend to go lighter in colour especially around the eyes and muzzle. Our skin may become less pliable possibly causing wounds to take longer to heal. We still expect our regular intake of cuddles which helps to relieve stress (ours and yours) and gives you the opportunity to check for any pesky lumps or bumps that may not have been prevalent earlier. Other warning signs that arthritis may be appearing include increased breathing difficulties (not including breathing after walkies time).

Our annual visit to the vet, we know can be a pain on your work schedules and also your wallet, but one way to rationalise this, is to remember that we generally age seven years to your one.

The blood test that the vet recommends can check out so many health matters that could be occurring without easy recognition or potentially occurring health matters in the future. If caught early preventative action can begin. Some of these diseases may include heart disease, kidney or liver disease or diabetes.

Now if we haven't put the dread of aging into you, we would like you to think about this "Adopting a senior dog (or cat) there are many dogs, seven years and older in shelters who get passed over for the cute little puppies (or kittens), but mum and I are firm believers in second chances". Mum found me in the gutter and Ally came into our lives at the age of six. Like so many older dogs, they are friendly, well adjusted, well behaved and all they want is a chance to show you how much love and appreciation they have to give.

Seeya Thursday and Ally.

Two young women meet face to face for the first time across the bed of a dying man. Strangers to each other but bonded by blood and grief. Sisters. They break the cold silence of the hospital room to start a difficult conversation. About the past and secrets. About the women who were their mothers. And about why this man, their father, abandoned one family to make another. When the past is dying and can't say sorry, how do you move on?

Sista Girl is an exploration of the relationship between Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal Australians, via the story of two women who share a white father. Co-written by Elena Carapetis (Gorgon) and Alexis West (Echoes of Knowing Home) especially for the brilliant Natasha Wanganeen (Rabbit Proof Fence, The Shadow King) and Nadia Rossi, the play will speak directly to audiences about questions of identity, grief and the complex nature of family.

The tickets are $26 for adults, $23 for groups of 6 or more and $15 for under 17s.

Thought of the Month

“Christ is risen, Halleluiah!” “He is risen indeed, Halleluiah!”

This is the Easter Greeting. Easter Sunday is now over, but the joy of Jesus Christ’s resurrection continues through the Easter Season for the Christian Church.

It’s a joy always proclaimed to the world, as seen in the Apostles Creed: “The third day he rose again from the dead.” It’s a big part of the New Testament. Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John all mention the resurrection.

It was preached by the apostle Peter in Jerusalem, that in Old Testament times King David “foresaw and spoke about the resurrection of the Christ, that he was not abandoned to Hades, nor did his flesh see corruption.³² This Jesus God raised up, and of that we all are witnesses. (Acts 2:31-32 ESV)”, as did all of Christ’s apostles: And with great power the apostles were giving their testimony to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus, and great grace was upon them all. (Acts 4:1 ESV)” The apostle Paul preached the resurrection of Jesus all the way over in Athens in Acts ch 17: “Some of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers also conversed with him. And some said, “What does this babblers wish to say?” (Acts 17:18) From the beginning the resurrection of Jesus always creates controversy where it is preached.

Christians boast not of themselves, but of Christ’s suffering and resurrection: “Indeed, I count everything as loss because of the surpassing worth of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord. For his sake I have suffered the loss of all things and count them as rubbish, in order that I may gain Christ⁹ and be found in him, not having a righteousness of my own that comes from the law, but that which comes through faith in Christ, the righteousness from God that depends on faith--¹⁰ that I may know him and the power of his resurrection, and may share his sufferings, becoming like him in his death,¹¹ that by any means possible I may attain the resurrection from the dead.”

There’s plenty of reason to love Easter, for Christ is risen! And so, on behalf of the Trinity Lutheran congregation, we pray the Lord would bless you during this Easter season.

Tailem Biz to Launch Website

A new website highlighting Tailem Bend businesses and local information will be launched by the newly formed business association on Friday, May 19.

Tailem Business & Tourism Inc formed last year to help prepare businesses for local growth as a result of multi-million-dollar spending in the district associated with The Bend Motorsport Park development and other investments, including the popular Wellington East housing subdivision.

The website – tailembend.biz – will be officially launched at a networking event open to all local business owners/managers and their partners as well as association members on Friday, May 19 at 6pm at the Old Tailem Town Cinema.

Businesses wishing to join the association can email: tailembiz@gmail.com to request an application form. Membership includes a listing on the new website, administrative access to the Tailem Business & Tourism Facebook page to allow for promotional posting, invitations to networking and events as well as other initiatives.

QUOTE OF THE MONTH

Gossips are worse than Thieves because they steal another person's Dignity, Honest Reputation and Credibility - which are Challenging to Restore.

Remember, when your feet slip you can always Recover your Balance, But when your tongue slips, you cannot Recover your Words.

100 Mile an Hour Goat

Two Tennessee rednecks are out hunting, and as they are walking along, they came upon a huge hole in the ground.

They approach it and are amazed at the size of it. The first hunter says, "Wow, that's some hole; I can't even see the bottom. I wonder how deep it is?" The second hunter says, "I don't know. Let's throw somethin' down there, listen and see how long it takes to hit bottom."

The first hunter says, "Hey, there's an old automobile transmission over there. Give me a hand, we'll throw it in and see."

So they pick it up and carry it over and count one, two, three and heave it in the hole. They are standing there listening, looking over the edge, when they hear a rustling sound behind them. As they turn around, they see a goat come crashing through the underbrush, run up to the hole and, without hesitation, jump in headfirst.

While they are standing there staring at each other in amazement, peering into the hole, trying to figure out what that was all about, an old farmer saunters up. "Say there," says the farmer, "You fellers didn't happen to see my Goat around here anywhere, did you?"

The first hunter says, "Funny you should ask, but we were just standing here a minute ago and a goat came running out of the bushes doin bout a hunnert miles an hour and jumped . . . headfirst into this here hole!!"

The old farmer said, "Naw, that's impossible . . I had him chained to a transmission."

HILLS Lia The Crying Place

It is the story of a man named Saul who is drowning in grief when he journeys to a small and isolated Aboriginal community in the Western Desert where he hopes to find solace. What he finds is a community much acquainted with ghosts and with death and who take him into the mysteries at the heart of Australia.

HEIN Catherine Wayward Heart

Jasmine Thomas should feel safe in her cosy cottage at Admella Beach after finally putting an end to an ill-advised romance. But her perfect sanctuary is shattered with the arrival of hand-delivered threatening notes. Someone has discovered her secret.

When the notes escalate to vandalism, Jasmine's anxiety rises. But in such a small place, telling the police would mean the whole town finding out.

Digby Wallace-Jones is stumbling through the motions of life, wrapped in a fog of grief since his fiancée Felicity died. Withdrawn from his family, Digby doesn't care about anything beyond his loss. But in a chance meeting with Jasmine, his sister's best friend who he's known forever, even he can see the tension she carries. Worried and feeling protective, he continues to drop by, but it's more than that. Jasmine soothes him; and, unlike the rest of his family, he can talk to her about his pain without fear of judgement. But as much as he likes Jasmine, Digby's enduring love for Felicity means he has nothing left to give and he pushes Jasmine away.

Jasmine knew they were supposed to stay friends 'with excellent benefits' but she can't help her wayward heart from falling for this tortured, kind and sexy man. How can she ever loosen the grip Felicity's memory has on Digby's soul and remind him he still has a life ahead of him?

Cracking Good Show

Beaming smiles and hundreds of colourful eggs greeted visitors to Tailem Bend's combined Churches "Cracking Good Art Show" at the Tailem Bend Community Centre, Easter Saturday April 15, 2017.

BELOW: Exhibitor, Clare Holliday of Wellington East, carefully positioning herself closely to the chocolate eggs during the inaugural "Cracking Good Art Show".

A quick visit to the Tailem Bend Christian Centre revealed the Church's recent Easter exhibit during the "Cracking Good Art Show" - looking very spiritual with the long shadows.

Pangarinda Gardens

Autumn is planting time while the soil is still warm and the chance of rain to help volunteers with the watering. Beaufortia sparsas vibrant red bottlebrush flowers seen at the entrance gate welcomes visitors. Two others of the sixteen species found in Western Australia will be seen in the garden.

Banksias continue their display with the tall open shrubs of Banksia prionotes in full flower, these shrubs of toothed leaves topped with orange flower spikes, that look like large acorns. Our local Banksia ornata with softer grey toothed leaves are full of green or yellow-brown flowers and will be seen amongst the Tailem Bend Children's plantings.

Hakeas are beginning to flower. The group of pin cushion flowering shrubs in front of the Information shelter have resulted from seed taken from a garden plant of Hakea 'Burrundong Beauty' (A hybrid plant originating from Burrundong Arboretum in NSW) These shrubs show evidence of the parent plants. It shows the importance of using seed collected off wild populations of plants for growing the true specie. These plants also show how many of our beautiful garden plants arise from hybridisation within gardens.

Submitted by Kaye Bartlett.
